MOUNT OLYMPICS

ZEUS
THE GOD OF THE SKIES

Welcome to Mount Olympus, the Olympic Games of the gods! Every four years the Greek gods of Olympus come together and host their own version of the Olympic games. Guests have been granted a special invitation and are welcomed into the Hippodrome of Olympus to take part in the games and experience the competition.

Each guest will enter the land with their Olympus Power Cuff RFID bands in order to be able to participate in the Challenges of Olympus, a series of interactive entertainment and games throughout the zone. Those seeking thrills can embark on an adrenaline-pumping high-energy roller coaster experience, Race for the Skies: Zeus vs Poseidon. On the other hand, the family-friendly dark ride, Match-Day Madness, offers a more immersive and interactive experience.

After the games and excitement, guests can continue on to one of the food venues. Heracles' Gymnasium & Diner is a theatrical sit-down restaurant experience where guests can interact live with many of the famous gods from myth as they train for their competitions. Guests can also make their way to the arena's open-air market, featuring Demeter's Harvest & Dionysus's Den, a food option for those looking for quick-service dining.

After eating, guests should make sure to stop by Hermes' Merchant Marketplace, the arena's merch store location stocked all sorts of styled clothing, sports jerseys, and team pennants. Most important of all are the Battle Bolt and the Tournament Trident, exclusive collectibles sold at the marketplace which hold special powers that can be used at various locations around the park to create elemental effects to the rollercoaster.

Located within a shaded section of the Hippodrome stands, Demeter's Harvest and Dionysus' Den hosts a number of quick-service food options for a bite between rides. Options include Greek-authentic meals like gyros and kebabs, and theme park classics like hot dogs and hamburgers, as well as healthy-eating choices and accommodations for food restrictions. The converted chariot-food stalls are owned and operated by Demeter, the goddess of agriculture and food, in association with Dionysus, the god of wine, festivities, and parties! His stands do serve alcohol throughout the day, but at night Dionysus takes over and turns the whole marketplace into a lively party for any guests looking to join in on the fun.

Hermes' MERCHANT MARKETPLACE

Adventurous guests looking to represent their favorite teams may also purchase our signature merchandise items, the Battle Bolt and the Tournament Trident, which can be used to control interactive elements that affect the Race for the Skies: Zeus vs Poseidon coasters that circle the arena.

In addition to food stalls, the marketplace also hosts a merchandise section, owned and operated by the god Hermes. His stands feature themed sports jerseys, Zeus and Poseidon team pennants, shirts, hoodies, hats, backpacks, and more.

Team Poseidon guests can wave their Tournament Tridents to trigger water and mist effects to cheer on their team in the great race!

Battle Bolt-wielding guests on Team Zeus can trigger air blasts and sound effects for the coasters.

Challenges of Olympus

The spirit of competition abounds at the zone-wide interactive entertainment offerings – Challenges of Olympus. Guests get to flex their god-given powers as they compete for either team – Zeus or Poseidon – in different interactive games throughout the land. Battle it out in a tug of war powered by your jumps, compete in a musical dance-off to lull Cerberus to sleep, challenge your opponents in a shadow-fight, and much more!

Challenges of Olympus also serves as an interactive virtual queue for guests wanting to ride Race for the Skies: Zeus vs Poseidon. Clock up points with your RFID Power Cuff for each time you defeat your opponents.

Guests who choose not to ride Race for the Skies: Zeus vs Poseidon can still enjoy this entertainment offering.

The Power Cuff comes in a variety of sizes to accommodate all guests.

Minigame example: Sleep, Cerberus, Sleep!

At the training grounds, guests will step into a chariot and pick up their crossbow shooters to participate in a decathlon alongside the gods. However, the god of the underworld Hades bursts onto the scene with an army of monsters wanting to destroy the games. Zeus and Poseidon grant the guests their godly power as they battle the Hydra and the Minotaur, each with their own unique strategies and weak spots, before progressing to the final boss: Hades. After an intense fight, the lord of the underworld will be defeated, only to admit he was just upset that he was not invited to the games. The final podium will be assigned according to which team scored the most points during the ride (Medals sold separately!). This interactive 3D adventure is fun for everyone!

STORYBOARD

Pre-Show: An animatronic of Referee Athena informs riders of the rules of the decathlon they are about to embark on.

Scene 1: High-speed race with chariots powered by water and wind by Poseidon and Zeus.

Scene 2: Riders shoot arrows at targets with crossbows. This acts as the tutorial.

Scene 3: Suddenly Hades and his monsters bursts from the cracked Earth. He is upset that he wasn't invited to the games and aims to ruin the day.

Scene 4: Riders first must defeat the minotaur. Zeus subs out their arrows for lightning bolts.

Scene 5: After defeating the minotaur, riders face the hydra. Poseidon subs out their lightning bolts for water spouts.

Scene 6: After defeating his monsters, riders face Hades himself. Zeus and Poseidon join their efforts against him.

Scene 7: After defeating Hades, Zeus and Poseidon realize they should have invited him and let him in on the fun. They give him his own toga-jersey.

RACE FOR THE SKIES

ZEUS VERSUS POSEIDON

Enter into the Temple to the Gods at the end of the Hippodrome, where Zeus and Poseidon are once again arguing, this time about who has the better looking sports toga. To prove themselves, they decide on a friendly competition: you have been chosen as their champion to compete in a flying race between Poseidon's Pegasus and Zeus' Wax Wings. Jump in the saddle or strap into the wings and prepare for a breakneck flight across the length of the Hippodrome, through the stands and up into the air as you strive to win for your patron god, or else face his wrath...

This one-of-a-kind thrilling adventure will be the world's first dueling coasters that offers riders the chance to soar in a flying position or race in a saddled horseback position.

Guests waiting in the virtual queue test their mettle as the battle it out in a series of entertaining interactive games at the Challenges of Olympus. Each coaster train's collective points for the Challenges of Olympus will determine the launch speeds on the coaster and decide the ultimate winning side. Each guests' points are totaled when they scan their Power Cuffs at the load station.

Non-riders can also get in on the action by using the Battle Bolt and Tournament Trident at stations around the land to interact with the coaster via elemental effects.

- Specifications for each coaster:
- Ride Duration: 2 mins
 - No. of Block Sections: 4
 - Number of Trains: 3
 - Theoretical Hourly Ride Capacity : 1440 pax/hr

Heracles' Gymnasium & Diner

Choosing to pursue his side-passion, Heracles has recently founded Heracles' Gymnasium & Diner. Guests dine surrounded by real-life Greek gods training for their next competition. At regular intervals, the gods will perform for the guests, reenacting scenes from their favorite myths. For those seeking an authentic experience, the menu for the Gymnasium features a Mediterranean-style section with many traditional Greek dishes. The menu also includes many classic American-style restaurant meals, from salads to soups and from burgers to pizza, as well as alternative dining options for those with food restrictions.
